THE COLORED VOTERS. In a former paper I advised the colored men to divide their votes in elec' tions. In this paper I propose to discues the question of supposed white hatred towards the black man, as is fostered by certain politicians and be-lieved by many colored men—parti-cularly about election times. The democratic party has had almost—ex-cept for a few years under Mahone— ucit terrup:ed possession of our State legis ature, governor, courts and even down to the cities. They passed a few measures such as the whipping post and cap tation tax laws, of which the colored man could justly complain-not regard to the laws themselves, possibly, but in the way they were adminitired. I might add our present election law, which places the ignorant si values and are offered at 23c colored voter at the mercy of the democrat who prepares tis ballot. These three laws aside—the two first having been repealed—what do we see today, no withs anding the solid colored vote has been against the democratic party and the men of influence, standing and capital back of them. They have given you work, often giving you the preference. They have visited you when s'ck; loaned you money when you were worthy, until you could get about and pay it. They have zealously cared for your children's schooling, and paid for the same unstintedly. They have striv-en to make your schools as efficient as their own white schools. They have watched the progress of your children with pleasure. They have taken care of your old and feeble. During the winter just closing they have given your old and infirm and men out of work from the public treasury hundreds, and I might say thousands, of dollars in wood and provisions, to say nothing of the private charities, the gifts of which are not made known. I have seen delicate raised well-dressed ladies picking their way around slush and mud inquiring the way tosome old colored "uncle" or "aunty's" cabin, a former servant, who, they had heard, was sick and in distress, carrying a basket of delicacies to relieve them. Will any one tell me that these people are your enemies? It so, then the more you have of them, the better for you. They have rejoiced with you in your prosperity, and grieved with you when sick or in distress, and they wish you well. How do you repay them? By voting against what they consider to be their best interests and yours. They may be wrong in many ways, but they will find it out in time, if you give them a chance by changing your methods, as indicated in a former article. One thing is certain—their interests are yours, and you cannot divorce them. When they suffer, you will suffer also; when they prosper, you will in a measure be benefited. You may quarrel and wrangle among yourselves who shall be the leader of tens or twenties, for the purpose of having something to sell to the machine, but it only brings ridicule and contempt from your white fellow citizens.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism, Kenns, Jackson county, W. Va. About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which con-fined her to her bad for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without aseistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A.
